Summary

Hi there! My name is Cyrus.

Passionate about the intersection of mathematics, computer science,
and emerging technologies in AI, AR, and VR.

Currently pursuing a dual Bachelor's degree in Mathematics and Computer Science with a focus on pure mathematics and machine learning at the University of Queensland.

Specialising in leveraging mathematical principles to advance cutting-edge developments in artificial intelligence, augmented reality, and virtual reality.

Seeking opportunities to apply theoretical knowledge and practical skills in dynamic environments, driving innovation and pushing boundaries in the tech industry.

Let's connect and explore possibilities at the nexus of mathematics, computer science, and transformative technologies!
